

George E. Strother
Vice President
Trillium Learning Global Program Development

Since 1995, George Strother has been a Senior Partner in Strother and Strother, a business development, marketing and communications consulting firm. He has an extensive business background launching and growing new enterprises. His range of experience includes educational technology, communications technology, security and corporate intelligence, risk analysis, financial services and healthcare industries, education and government. He is currently working with Trillium Learning to develop global programs in both the education and business markets.

In 1996 George joined the COMWEB Technology Group, Inc. and Global Knowledge Exchange, as Vice President. From 1997 to 2002, he was responsible for day-to-day operational activities. He continues to serve as a senior advisor to the founder and CEO on a broad spectrum of issues. In 2002, he joined International Risk Intelligence LLC, a risk management firm specializing with security intelligence, business intelligence and proprietary information management as a managing director, a role in which he continues today.

From 1977 to 1995 George Strother was a corporate officer for MetLife. During that time, he held a variety of positions of responsibility including Vice President of MetLife Healthcare and Officer in Charge, MetLife Retirement Group.

George is a graduate of Rider University with a B.S. in Business Administration. He holds an MBA, cum laude, from Fairleigh Dickinson University and a CLU degree from the American College.